Subject: Capturing Nature in Watercolor

Interlochen – Would you like to capture the beauty of nature on paper? As older adults, we can still re-create the magic of art that we enjoyed as children. Whether it is your first time working with watercolors or you are seeking further expertise, local artist Jan Oliver’s watercolor class in Interlochen will allow you to explore and refine your watercolor techniques.

Join Jan Oliver at the Golden Fellowship Hall in Interlochen, 9700 Riley Road, for a two-hour session each week for six weeks, beginning Tuesday, May 15, 1 p.m. Look at nature close up – capture what you see, using the magic of watercolors.

Jan Oliver, M.A.-communications, is the designer/owner of Grand Traverse Arts. She is a watercolor painter, illustrator, graphic designer and educator. She has also taught as an adjunct instructor at NMC.

The cost of the watercolor class is $50. You can bring your own supplies or pay an additional fee for the supplies to be provided by the instructor. Advanced registration is required by Tuesday, May 8.

For more information and to register, email dmikowski@grandtraverse.org or call the new program registration number at 231-922-2080
