Subject: iPad Classes Offered at the Senior Center!

On Wednesday, November 12, from 1 – 2 p.m., the Senior Center Network will offer an Intermediate Level, iPad class, with an Advanced Level class on Wednesday, the following week, November 19th, also at 1:00 p.m. For new iPad users, simple things like finding good apps, installing them, organizing them or even deleting them might seem like a complicated task. Fortunately, JC Capron of CityMac will be at the Traverse City location of the Senior Center Network to teach all the basics and then guide participants through more advanced techniques.

“Having taught Apple classes since 1992, I have developed a clear and concise method for translating techie topics, with analogies, allowing the "non-techie" to relate and understand,” Capron says. “Seniors need this method with encouragement, giving them confidence to explore what most of us take for granted.”

The classes are just $5 each (members), $8 each (non-members) for one hour of instruction. Seniors who want to get the most out of their new iPad are encouraged to attend and bring their iPad. Register in advance by calling 231-922-4911.
