Subject: Learn How to Prepare for Probate Court

On Tuesday, October 4 at 3:30 p.m.; Judge Melanie Stanton will be at the Traverse City Senior Center to give a free presentation on how to prepare for probate court. Judge Stanton was elected Grand Traverse County Probate Judge in November 2012. She presently presides over guardianships, conservatorships, wills, trusts and estates for Grand Traverse County.

Judge Stanton will address some of the key issues associated with estate planning including wills, trusts and how best to use a power of attorney. Judge Stanton will also discuss the appropriate use of guardians and conservators.

“This presentation will give people the educational tools and encouragement they need so they will feel more comfortable when they prepare for probate court,” says Ericca Hovie, Program Coordinator.

Advance registration required. For registration and questions, please email dmikowski@grandtraverse.org or call 231-922-4911.
